PRESS RELEASE

Anderson Consultants, Inc. meets with IL Rep. Randy Frese to help review state energy policy affecting downstate Illinois

Rep. Frese to take more in depth view into state energy policy following announced closing of two Exelon nuclear generation facilities affecting future statewide energy prices.

Quincy, June 7, 2016: Anderson Consultants, Inc. (ACI) is pleased to announce that we were privileged to an extensive meeting regarding pending and proposed Illinois energy legislation. We discussed its impact on downstate Illinois residents and businesses with IL Rep. Randy Frese (R), 94th District today. We have had dialogue and will continue to meet with him as an independent advisor on Illinois energy policy. Through initial and future discussions of the current State of Illinois electricity market conditions, generation assets, current state policy and proposed legislation we will maintain awareness of energy opportunities and legislation and to keep the Representative informed so he may adequately make informed decisions on behalf of his constituents. Through talks with Representative Frese, it is our intent to meet with him and other state leaders as well of representatives of Exelon and Dynegy as we try to find a viable and sustainable path forward and to avoid the announced closure of the Clinton and Quad Cities nuclear generation facilities. These facilities not only are important to the Illinois electricity infrastructure as it currently stands, but they also provide approximately 1.2 billion dollars of economic activity to our state and 1,200-1,600 jobs at a time when our state desperately needs it. We hope to open communication across party lines and with the corporations sponsoring legislation throughout future sessions in order to allow Illinois to continue enjoy some of the lowest annual electric prices across the country. Without a clear path forward that includes additional carbon-free sources to include nuclear power, wind, solar, and other viable energy assets our state stands to fail to meet the very ambitious goal of a 25% renewable energy statewide renewable energy portfolio as more and more support to the grid is needed with the threatened decommissioning of several nuclear facilities across the nation. We hope to provide a private and independent approach to the energy policy process at a time when our state is seemingly torn with controversial issues and at a time when our government continues to operate without a viable budget in sight. We will strive to alleviate some of the additional stress of digesting hours and hours of energy policy from Rep. Frese and other key state lawmakers as well fulfill an obligation to not only our state legislators but also the residents they represent. All services will be provided to the benefit of the state free of charge as we hope that the small role we can play will have a great impact on the energy future of our great state.
